From the President

Thank you for entering this Sydney Royal Competition and congratulations to all entrants who were successful in achieving the status of Sydney Royal medal winner.

Now more than ever the rewards for excellence are to be applauded as they show the determination and spirit of producers right across Australia. To continue to follow your passion and not only value your work enough to enter into competitions but to achieve outstanding results is a testament to all that the Sydney Royal competitions stand for.

To be the recipient of a Sydney Royal award is a significant accomplishment representing months, years and sometimes decades of hard work and dedication. The ability to go to market with Sydney Royal artwork on the packaging elevates your product and signifies the exceptional quality recognised by our judges.

Our competitions are renowned for their fair yet rigorous judging process, the professionalism and integrity of our judging panels and the relevance of our classes to industry and consumer trends. We review our Competitions every year to ensure they remain relevant to industry standards and up-to-date with changing trends and we value feedback from all entrants. There are many people involved in making our Competitions the world-class events they are. I must thank our judges for their time, expertise and energy. Their impeccable ethics ensure only the best of the best are awarded. I also extend my gratitude to our generous Competition sponsors along with our Committees and supporters.

I hope all entrants have enjoyed their experience and take advantage of the feedback they receive as well as the marketing opportunities available for those who are Sydney Royal medal winners. I encourage all of you to enter again next year and continue to grow your product alongside those of your peers.

From organic miso to gluten-free eclairs – the 2021 Sydney Royal champions changing the game.

MEDIA RELEASE

Monday, 29th November 2021.

The Royal Agricultural Society of NSW (RAS) has announced the results of its 2021 Sydney Royal Fine Food Show today, with the competition results indicating growth in the specialty food market, a cracker year for beef, and a changing of the guard in professional bakery.

Celebrating an array of first-time champions, the Sydney Royal Fine Food Show also welcomed an increase in product variety this year, including first-time exhibitor Rice Culture Australia, which took out Champion Specialty Product for its Organic Vintage Miso.

A traditional Japanese seasoning, miso is made from fermenting soybeans with salt and koji and was first entered into the Sydney Royal Specialty Food Show in 2019.

Sydney Royal Specialty Food Judge and renowned food consultant Brigid Treloar said consumers seem to be more informed and knowledgeable about food, its provenances and uses, which is reflected in the products coming through judging.

“I think there is more use of products like miso in everyday cooking to enhance and add extra depth to flavours, rather than just specialist and traditional uses, like miso soup,” Brigid Treloar says.

“As consumers experiment more, they quickly realise how versatile a product like this is, to add an extra depth and dimension to foods, without dominating. More importantly, miso adds that fifth elusive flavour, umami, for both savoury and sweet foods, so it is fantastic to see such high calibre Australian made products available for consumers to explore.

“In the Specialty Foods Competition, we not only had enough entries to spread the competition over three days of judging, but we had such an interesting and diverse array of products and exhibits. It is due to this diversity that we need such an expert calibre of judges who can give constructive feedback to exhibitors - a reason many exhibitors enter is to receive expert advice on ways to improve their products.”

The competition saw a changing of the guard in Professional Bakery, with all four champions taking home the award for the first time, while Sydney’s Wholegreen Bakery won Champion Pastry for its gluten-free Chocolate Éclair, making it the first gluten-free pastry to take home the championship in Sydney Royal Fine Food history.

“The gluten free éclair was a perfect example of a food that not only meets this allergy free need but is also of such a good calibre in its own right that there is no need for the sort of explanation that we used to hear ‘it’s good for gluten free’,” Brigid Treloar said.

The 2021 beef exhibits also shone bright this year, with 9 Gold Medals awarded across the Grass Fed and Open Beef classes which is a significant increase from the 2019 competition and a reflection of the industry bouncing back following drought and bushfires. Honouring this top quality was Stockyard Beef, which took home Champion Beef and overall Branded Meat Grand Champion.

REWARDING EXCELLENCE IN AUSTRALIAN AGRICULTURE

Other highlights included impressive results within the 2021 coffee class which awards 100 per cent Australian grown coffee beans to assist in growing the industry here in Australia.

“One of the purposes of the Fine Food competition is to promote Australian agriculture, so this year, the stand-alone Coffee Competition and Chocolate & Confectionery Competitions were moved to Specialty Foods Competition, with the requirement that the beans are 100% Australian grown. We were unsure how many entries could meet this criterion; however, it was a fantastic, albeit surprising, outcome with 3 golds awarded for all Australian grown coffee!”

In addition to an array of expert Judges, the Sydney Royal Fine Food Show relies on connected industry advisors to ensure all competitions and classes are at the forefront of the Australian and global food, wine, and dairy industries. This year, the RAS is honoured to welcome chef, sustainability advocate and food consultant Tawnya Bahr to its Industry Advisory Committee to help guide the Sydney Royal Fine Food competition into the future.

JUDGES' COMMENTS: This class of EVOO varietal blends of commercial volume exhibited very similar olfactory and gustatory characteristics. There were several unique individual oils that after blending still reflected varietal sensory attributes. Overall a great sensory experience of Tati g this range of oils.

Pasta

CLASS 1 - Fresh Pasta (e.g., Fettucine, Linguine, Spaghetti, Gnocchi, etc.) Wheat types accepted are Durum Wheat, Wholemeal/Wholegrain, Semolina, Spelt, Flour, also Maize Starch, Rice Flour, Tapioca Starch and Potato

JUDGES' COMMENTS: The class was well represented and quite diverse eg with some new innovations in cooking. It was pleasing to see quality raw ingredients being used. If exhibitors need specific ingredients for cooking then it would be advantageous if they are more specific eg if cooking in pan, then specify what type of oil, how much and what temp. There were a few exhibits where the ingredients were missing from the ingredient list. We were encouraged to see some old styles and traditional shapes returning eg Bucatini, Mafaldine. Overall the integrity of the ingredients were good and true to style.

CLASS 2 - Dried Pasta (e.g., Fettucine, Linguine, Spaghetti, etc.) Wheat types accepted are Durum Wheat, Wholemeal/Wholegrain, Semolina, Spelt, Flour, also Maize Starch, Rice Flour and Tapioca Starch.

JUDGES' COMMENTS: It was great to see a variety of different flavours in this class. Quality varied, attention needs to be given to the addition of egg in the wheat pastas as they all seemed be overpowered by egginess in the pasta and water. Many were surprisingly brittle as raw product so packaging would need to provide adequate support. Some herbs were overpowering, some lost the herb flavour on cooking. Many products were too salty. Encouraging to see some gluten free products.

Wheat types accepted are Durum Wheat, Wholemeal/Wholegrain, Semolina, Spelt, Flour, also Maize Starch, Rice Flour, Tapioca Starch, Potato. Cannelloni or Lasagne will not be accepted

JUDGES' COMMENTS: Some Classic flavours were well made and tasty. It was good to see texture in some filling and the quality of ingredients shone through. Vegetarian flavours were better executed. More attention to sealing the pasta to avoid splitting. Interesting flavour combinations. More attention needs to be on cooking time.

HAM

CLASS 2 - Hams, bone in, semi boneless, and boneless hams. All hams must be cured, fully cooked and may or may not be smoked.

JUDGES' COMMENTS: Variable quality across all aspects judged. Only a few were judged to be gold across the group. Unfortunately some half were presented and this failed the class description. We encourage the participants to carefully read the class conditions. Flavour were very much judged on classic ham tastes and balance vs more exotic variations.

Specialty Foods

CLASS 1 - Sweet Preserves and Dressings (e.g., jams, jellies, conserves, marmalades, spreads, pastes, sauces, infused honey, etc.)

JUDGES' COMMENTS: Interesting diverse range of products. Reflects well the coming trends of the retail world. Overall the quality was good, reflected by the number of awards given. Commercial viability and point of difference is vital to consider when producing in a cluttered market. Understanding what your competitors are offering and what consumer expectations are is also important to ensure your product stands out. Ingredient lists should be exhaustive and the name of the product should reflect the name of ingredients, especially natives, exotic fruits and spices.

CLASS 2 - Savoury Preserves and Dressings (e.g., sauces, marinades, mayonnaise, salad dressings, pesto, tapenade, mustards, horseradish, chutney, relishes, salsa, savoury pastes, curry pastes, chili preserves, wet rubs, etc.)

JUDGES' COMMENTS: An excellent class with some really innovative new ingredients and flavour combinations. Very diverse in flavour and application. Some products needed more focus on texture and spice roasting but overall the balance and innovation shone through. An excellent class of savoury products. Take care with product descriptions & instructions how consumers are expected to use the product. We were very impressed by the products that were served cooked as they represented great flavour and diversity but remember to nominate if your products should be warmed or cooked (with chicken as outlined in the Schedule) to optimise taste & consistency of your product.

CLASS 4 - Pickled/Marinated Fermented Dried and Preserved Products (e.g., fruit, vegetables, seafood, pickled onions, figs, anchovies, dried mushrooms, tomatoes, kelp, miso, garnishing pearls, mullet, roe, mackerel, any jerky and smoked products, etc.)

JUDGES' COMMENTS: A pleasing amount of innovation and the consistency of products was generally high. Some progressive ideas and processes using local and regionally sourced ingredients. A lot of craftsmanship was shown with the products in a well represented range of Australian products. The products that let the core ingredient shine through stood out, the quality of ingredients and the versatility in application was refreshing.

CLASS 5 - Dips (e.g., basil, hommus, tzatziki, taramosalata, smoked or dried seafood)

JUDGES' COMMENTS: Some really fantastic new and innovative fish and dip products. The products that scored highly showed excellent provenance of ingredients and balance of flavour. We especially liked to see Australian salt and pepper used as a seasoning. We would like to see greater incorporation of native ingredients and spices.

CLASS 6 - Cereals, Grains, Seeds and Legumes (e.g., granola, muesli, chia bars, cereal bars, pulses, chickpeas, lentils, etc)

JUDGES' COMMENTS: Concern over the country of origin of many of the ingredients in cereals (eg. seeds, nuts, coconut) so product does not qualify for the 85% Australian ingredients as specified in the schedule which was a shame as some good products. Where possible we encourage producers to use local salt and honey. It would be good to see more diverse products entered in this class

CLASS 7 - Nuts (e.g., raw, roasted, plain, salted, sweet and savoury flavoured eg walnuts, almonds, macadamia, hazelnuts, pistachios, etc)

JUDGES' COMMENTS: This was a small class this year but we liked seeing the quality of Australian nuts and enjoyed the uniformity, quality and flavour of the raw products. We would have preferred more attention to seasoning and flavour combinations for the seasoned products. We would love to see more nut exhibits entered in 2022 as we are aware the quality of Australian nuts is exceptional.

CLASS 8 - Confectionery & Chocolate (including peanut brittle, chocolate coated macadamias, sugar coated almonds, nougat, rocky road, fudge, fairy floss, licorice, marshmallow, etc) Can be chocolate based or non-chocolate based, dipped, enrobed or moulded.

JUDGES' COMMENTS: A varied class of products with some interesting and innovative entries. Whilst some products lacked refinement, generally due to unbalanced levels of sweetness and texture, detailed individual feedback to exhibitors will hopefully be helpful. Some artisan products would be very marketable in speciality food retail environments. It would be great to see more Australian grown and manufactured chocolate exhibits, from this emerging market.

CLASS 9 - Vinegars (e.g., caramelised, maceration including raspberry or tarragon, from any fruit, vegetable or grain, etc.)

JUDGES' COMMENTS: Very high standard of product across the class. Plain vinegars were excellent quality very versatile. Flavoured vinegars were successfully innovative, choosing ingredients which worked well and should be commercially successful.

CLASS 12 - Coffee – 100% Australian Grown - Latte or Piccolo. 100% Single Origin Australian grown from a Single Origin Estate

JUDGES' COMMENTS: There was a great improvement in the roast level for the category. Little instance of over roasting. Good flavours coming through the cup. Good to see products working well in milk base. One or two entrants used older beans which was a negative for their entry, the age came through in aroma and flavour.
